Re: Chapter 71 – Bangor Center Revitalization Area

The City has what is commonly referred to as a “façade district.” This is an area, governed by Chapter 71 of the Code of the City of Bangor, in which there are standards for the rehabilitation of buildings. This is done generally to ensure architectural compatibility with surrounding buildings, many of which are historic, and to promote revitalization of this core area of the City. Proposed changes to buildings in this area are reviewed by the Historic Preservation Commission, even though the work is not “historic preservation” so much as ensuring compatibility with the historic buildings nearby.

The attached ordinance would replace the official map of the façade district with a more precise, easy to read version. It would also correct several errors left over from the extensive changes made to Chapter 71 in May.

Title, Ordinance

Amending Chapter 71, Bangor Center Revitalization Area, by Replacing the Official Map and Correcting Several Errors

Summary

This ordinance amendment would replace the official map of the City’s Bangor Center Revitalization Area, sometimes referred to as the façade district, with a more precise, easy to read version. This will help improve the accuracy and readability of the map. The boundaries of the Area will not change. The amendment also clarifies that the Area only includes parcels, not rights-of-way. This is in keeping with with current practice.

This amendment would also correct several errors found in Chapter 71, the portion of the City Code dealing with the Bangor Center Revitalization Area. Chapter 71 was amended and replaced in its entirety in May. As is often the case with major ordinance revisions, there are a few errors that should be corrected. Furthermore, one ordinance change dealing with signs in public parks that was passed shortly before the major revision was not accounted for in the final version; this ordinance amendment would correct this oversight.

Re: 40 Nelson Street zone change

In July, the Planning Board and City Council rejected the City’s request to change the zoning of a parcel of land we own at 40 Nelson Street (Map-Lot 031-051-A). This parcel was acquired by the City with CDBG Neighborhood Stabilization Funds, and there was a home on the property at one time. The previous application was to request to change the entire parcel to Urban Residence 2 district, from the current split zone (Urban Residence 1 on the front portion and Parks & Open Space on the rear portion).

After reviewing the feedback from the public, Planning Board, and City Council, staff now request consideration of returning the entire parcel to URD-1, which would allow for one-family detached dwellings rather than multi-unit residential development. This application has been submitted to the Planning Board, but we wanted to update you as well.

The City Engineer completed a review of the site for sight distances, and that memorandum is attached. The zoning request (to URD-1) is consistent with the Comprehensive Plan, as noted in the attached memo submitted to the Planning Board in support of this application. Staff see this as an opportunity for infill development, and seek the Committee’s support on this application.

The diagram on the following page shows the existing zoning for reference. The light yellow is URD-1 (the homes at 50 and 58 Nelson, as well as 39, 37, 33, etc. across the street). The orange color is URD-2 (11 Drummond, 199 Ohio).

RE: Request for Zone Change at 40 Nelson Street from Parks & Open Space (P&O) District to Urban Residence 1 District

Thank you for placing the above noted item on your agenda for August 6, 2019. The City Manager has asked to return this application for further analysis of new testimony. Your continued deliberation on this matter is appreciated.

Please note the following:

A. The Finance Committee, at their meeting on Monday July 15th, 2019, voted to retain the parcel as city property and not sell to an abutter. The City Manager is preparing the property for sale to a private entity for residential development.

B. It is understood the grades of this parcel challenges development. In working with City Engineer, he has indicated that a driveway accessing the lot would be acceptable. See attached memorandum from the City Engineer dated July 23, 2019.

C. The area around the lot is all residential with a few exceptions. In looking at the environs of a little over 7 acres, there are 43 lots; thus the average lot size has a typical urban density of .17 acres. This proposed lot exceeds this average.

D. Staff sees this project as consistent with the Comprehensive Plan as shown below in the Physical Development Plan:

   GOAL NO. 2 - The achievement of the most functional spatial arrangement of activities in the community.

   Objective

   The City of Bangor shall adopt land use controls, to minimize conflicts between incompatible activities.

   Recommended Policies

   2. The City shall encourage infill projects on vacant land in serviced sites within the urban area.
This project is defined as an infill development proposal where city services are available.

Most notably, the Zoning Policy from the Physical Development Plan shows the area as Urban Residence and Parks & Open Space as well. The zoning in the environs is a mix of URD-1 and URD2 with a couple of exceptions for Neighborhood Service and Institutional.

Thank you for your continued consideration of this request.

Re:Intersection Sight Distance Review – 40 Nelson Street, City Lot 031-051-A

The Community and Economic Development Department requested that the Engineering Department review the available intersection sight distance at the existing driveway to 40 Nelson Street. The existing driveway is located on the inside of a horizontal curve and Nelson Street has an average grade of about 16 percent within the vicinity of the driveway. The vegetation surrounding the driveway is quite overgrown which limits the current intersection sight distance. The speed limit on Nelson Street is 25 MPH.

Jeff LaBree and I conducted a field visit to the City parcel on Tuesday July 23, 2019 to measure the available intersection sight distance at the driveway. Sight distance measurements were taken at 10’ from the edge of the roadway with a height of eye at 3’-6” and at the center of the travel lane in each direction with the height of object being 4’-3” above the pavement in accordance with MaineDOT criteria.

At the existing driveway, the available intersection sight distance looking to the left (north direction) was around 330 feet. This measurement presumed that the vegetation currently restricting sight distance at the driveway could be easily removed. 330 feet of intersection sight distance is appropriate for a speed limit of 35 MPH according to MaineDOT guidelines.

The intersection sight distance looking to the right (south direction) from the driveway was estimated at about 160 feet. This measurement also presumed that the existing vegetation currently restricting sight distance could be easily removed. This available sight distance is appropriate for a posted speed limit of 20 MPH. Additional intersection sight distance may be gained with additional grading of the driveway and by removing an existing high spot on the parcel that restricts line of sight in the southerly direction. It may be possible that with some regrading work, intersection sight distance to the south may be increased up to 200 feet which would accommodate the posted speed limit of 25 MPH.

Sincerely,

John Theriault, PE
Bangor City Engineer
